

I am very concerned that the various media mediums are so limited in their ownership, already influenced by the corporate companies that fund these enterprises. Freedom of the press takes intentional protection of how our information is presented in an untainted, unbiased manner. The airwaves are not owned by individuals and I want the FCC to do all it can to protect and provide access to these airwaves by big and small owners of commercial enterprises, thereby not selling out Americans access to information to the highest corporate bidder.
